SHOTOVER

The Country Park is a beautiful haven of trees, flowers, animals and birds – not to mention fungi and reptiles. There is farmland, woodland and open heathland, bracken and gorse. There are sandy pits, boggy bits, molehills, compost heaps, mosses and bees. This peaceful, inspiring setting is largely managed by the Countryside Service.

PRESERVATION

Preserving what? Basically, all you see around you – in all its glory and tremendous variety!

We have green spaces to play in, dark woods, steep-sided valleys, an arboretum planted long ago by the University – the trees now majestic. We have new clearings, an infinite variety of habitats for wildlife and plants, wetlands, sand pits and quiet areas rarely visited except by the more cautious animals and birds.

Our aims are to:

- ◆ Protect this wild place
- ◆ Conserve quiet corners for wildlife
- ◆ Preserve Shotover in its natural state for people to enjoy
- ◆ Support good landscape management

SOCIETY

Formed in 1974 to fight off a proposed golf course on Shotover, the group is regularly consulted by Oxford City Council and its Countryside Service. We have formal representation on the Shotover Users' Group, and on the Steering Committee of the Oxford Green Belt Network.

We therefore have a say. And by joining us, you too can have a say.

Our AGM is held in the summer and we send or email newsletters to keep you up to date with all that concerns this lovely place.
